Wabisi

An old Woburn legend is that of Manitou and Wabisi. Manitou, chief of the Indian spirits, offended by the lack of gifts and attention rendered to him by the Aberginians, caused widespread famine and disease. He came to the Indian chief and promised him that prosperity would return and that the Braves would regain their former health when he was given proper worship. After these things had come to pass, Manitou was to smile on them. They were to assemble in canoes on Lake Innitou and wait for the sign.

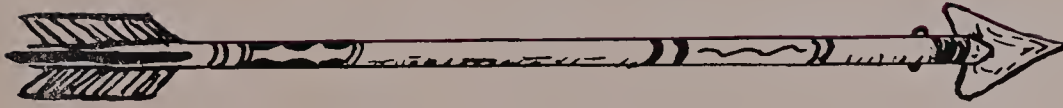

All that had been promised had been fulfilled and one day the Indians assembled on the lake. A white swan appeared from the waters, spread its beautiful wings of light over them, and then disappeared.

Darkness came and the Indians returned home. When morning came, they saw in the lake a beautiful island where the swan had been. They named the island "Wabisi", meaning swan.

Foreword . . .

We, the members of the Innitou Staff, having meticulously worked throughout our senior year, proudly present your yearbook. The staff has great hopes that you, the members of the Senior Class of 1952, will be immensely pleased with your book. We hope it will serve as a mirror of pleasant memories in the years to come.

To the Class of 1952:

The Yearbook of the Class of 1952 is a permanent, pictorial record of class-work, activities, and social events of your life in the Woburn High School.

In a very real sense the school is a community with standards, ideals, and activities which are organized to provide the youth of Woburn with the best educational opportunities in secondary education.

Graduation from high school is often referred to as the beginning of a new way of life. In a sense this is true. However, the Woburn High School program you pursued under guidance was directed to the end that this time of graduation would be transitional and would follow a logical sequence, rather than abruptly send you forth to meet the unknown.

In the areas of oral and written communication, preparation for civic competence, and analysis of your talents and achievements you have had a common background. Your individual needs have been met by a broad program of courses and activities.

How well the school has met your needs will be reflected in the attitudes of your adult life.

May this book be a lasting memorial of the activities and experiences which will assist you in becoming a more alert and responsible participant in our American democracy.

HENRY D. BLAKE, Principal

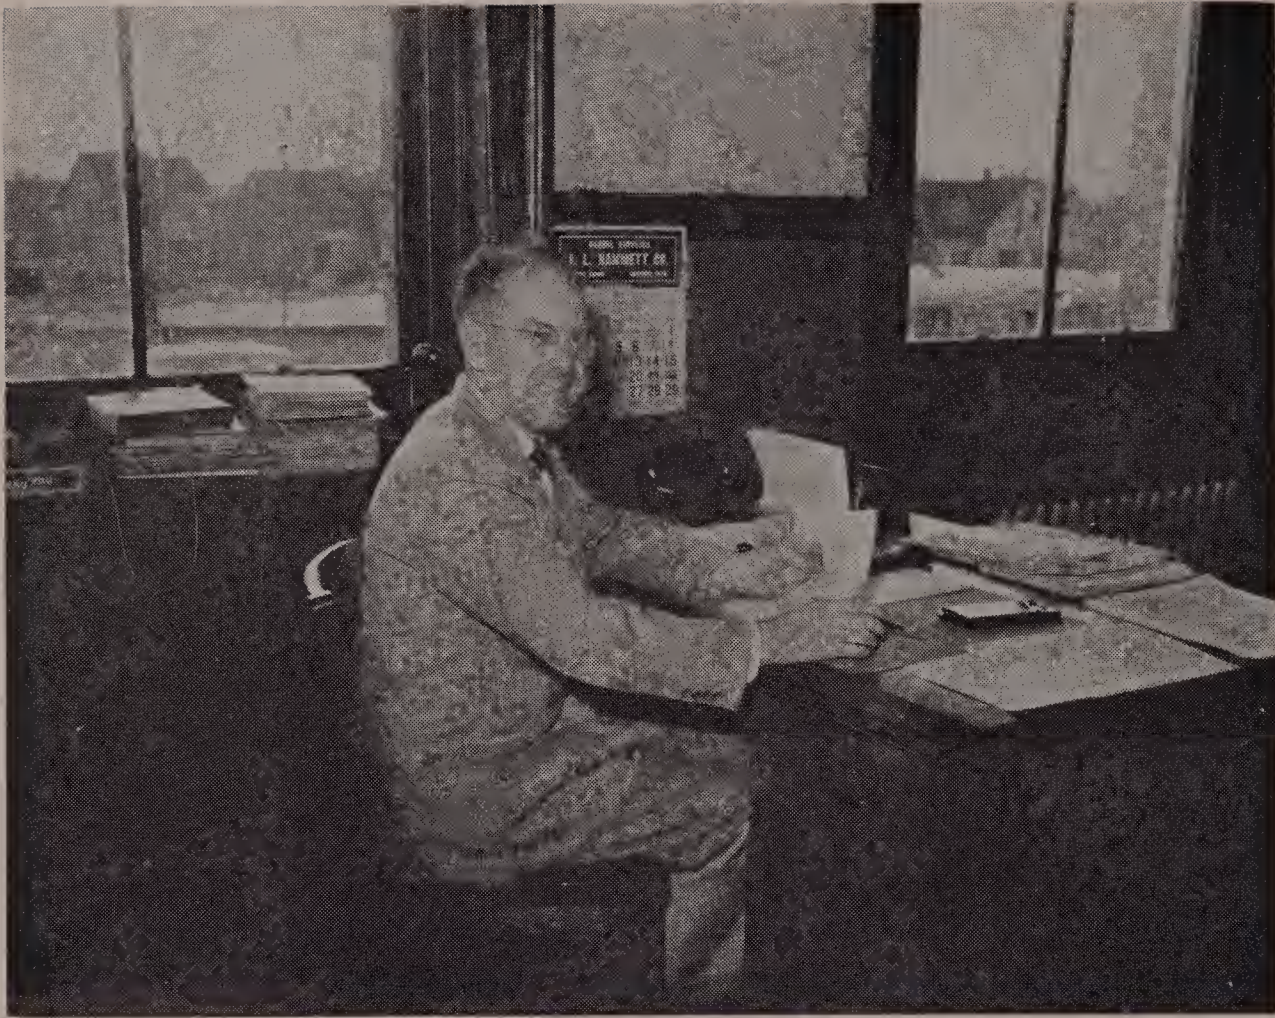

Dedication

To
Henry D. Blake

PRINCIPAL of the WOBURN HIGH SCHOOL

The members of the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-two are indeed proud to dedicate this issue of The Innitou to our new principal, Mr. Henry D. Blake. We were first privileged to make the acquaintance of Mr. Blake as our English teacher and, during our Junior year, we were pleased that he was appointed our new principal. He has always been our leader, friend, and counselor in all our undertakings throughout our high school days. As the first Senior Class to have completed a year under his guidance, we wish him success in all his future endeavors.

J. Frank Hassett

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1952:

Graduation night will soon be with us again, and this time for the Class of 1952.

Time seems to pass very quickly. It seems only yesterday that I came to Woburn to serve as Superintendent of Schools, and when I made my first visit to the elementary schools, I received a very pleasant reception from all pupils and especially from the pupils in the sixth grade. These same sixth grade pupils have now grown to be young men and women, and are completing the second stage of their educational preparation for their place in society. With your parents and relatives I shall be very happy and proud to witness the graduation exercises this year.

May I congratulate you and your devoted parents on this special occasion. With Divine Guidance and the continued counsel of your parents, I know that you will find success in whatever you decide to undertake in adult life. If I can be of any service to each of you, please do not hesitate to stop in to see me occasionally at the School Office.

J. Frank Hassett

ACTIVITIES

Achievement

Footprints made in shifting sand
Fade as waves o'erlap the land.
Base of sand will not endure
Beating waves upon the shore.

Firm will all our footprints be
'Gainst the tossing of the sea,
If our base in truth is laid.
Footprints then will never fade.

Class Motto

STEP BY STEP WE CONQUER

Our Alma Mater

Tune: All Through the Night

As we fondly bid adieu,
Dear Woburn High,
We shall give our pledge anew,
Dear Woburn High.
Teachers gladly paved the way
For our future every day.
Homage we shall always pay
Our Woburn High.

Though we leave you now forever,
Dear Woburn High,
We shall keep your memory ever,
Dear Woburn High.
All the precepts you have taught here,
Thoughts of friendships we hold dear,
Bind us closer year by year,
Our Woburn High!

Appreciation

The Members of the Staff of the 1952 Innitou in behalf of the Senior Class take this opportunity to express grateful appreciation to our advisers, Miss Margaret Burke, Miss Catherine Burke, Miss Louise Mawn, and Miss Doris Lynch, who have given unstintingly so much of their time to assist in the production of our book.

Our sincere thanks also goes to all the Woburn merchants and friends whose financial assistance has made our book possible; to our photographers, Mr. Warren Kay Vantine, Mr. Patrick Farino and Miss Lois Noonan; to Mr. Gangi of the Woburn Bowladrome; and to the Woburn Athletic Association.

To all our friends we are sincerely grateful.
